

The relationship between owner and transaction log is constructed because if the store gets more business partners, then each owner will have one to many transaction logs data associated with their id.